2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses students' learning levels and organises special programmes for both slow and advanced learners.

In regard to becoming diverse in terms of their degree and level of comprehensibility, students are also diverse in terms of geographical and linguistic characteristics. Since it would be improper to split a class into groups according to the comprehension of the students, classroom observation, interaction, continuous assessment, and periodic evaluation are employed as a measuring technique to determine the students' learning levels. The Institution admits diversified students from different social and economic backgrounds and the ability and extent of learning of the students is highly influenced by their personal abilities and other attributes. Institute has developed a structured mechanism for assessing the learning levels of the students. The initial interaction with students occurs during the mandatory AICTE Induction Programme, with the process of assessing, identifying, and differentiating the students by the professors. The first Continuous Evaluation process helps the faculty member to identify Slow and Advanced Learners. With regard to the program for Slow Learners, each proctor has been assigned with a group of students per year to provide one-to-one counselling for overall improvement. Extra and Remedial classes have also been conducted for the slow learners including efforts to improve the basic skills in Mathematics and English.

The major role and function of Information and communication technologies (ICT) in teaching-learning process ensure that students play an active and smart role in the learning process. Faculty members combine technology with traditional mode of instruction to engage students in long term learning. But, due to pandemic, education system has changed drastically, with the distinctive rise of e-learning, whereby teaching is undertaken remotely and on digital platforms also. 2.3.4 - Preparation and adherence to Academic Calendar and Teaching Plans by the institution

Preparation and Adherence of Academic Calendar:

The institution prepares the academic calendar every year in advance. The academic calendar covers the list of examination dates, seminars, conferences, guest lectures, workshops and industrial visits holidays, vacation dates, festivals, etc. Academic calendar provides the total effective working days available in a given semester. Then the director and senior officials prepare the time table by correlating the working days available and coverage of curriculum of the subjects. Thus the academic calendar monitors the effective delivery of the program with academic and business inputs.

Preparation and Adherence of Teaching Plan

The concern faculty members prepare teaching plan for their respective subjects of 40 hours. These 40 hours are distributed among class room teaching, tutorials, case studies, role play, workshops and lab sessional as per the subject requirements. These plans are made in advance and serve as guide for conducting sessions. The Principal, Dean(Academics) and HODs regularly review the progress of each course and ensures timely and effective completion of course in the specified time frame with perfect blend of practical and theoretical inputs.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - Programme Outcomes and Course Outcomes for all Programmes offered by the institution are stated and displayed on the website and communicated to teachers and students

The Institution has contributed, in large part, to the recommendations of the UGC on Evaluation Reforms in Higher Educational Institutions in India. The recommendations provide necessary mechanisms to implement outcome-based education in Educational Institutions in India. The present education system is based on Outcome Based Education (OBE) which is a student-centric learning approach and is made mandatory to Higher educational institutions by all regulatory bodies like UGC, NAAC etc. It not only helps the students to achieve predetermined set of expected knowledge, skills, ethics, values or attributes that a student should acquire after due completion of his/her program. Programme outcomes (POs), Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs) and Course outcomes (COs) are necessary for the flexibility and innovation in programme design, syllabi development, teaching-learning process and assessment of student learning levels.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme Outcomes and Course Outcomes as evaluated by the institution

After completion of each academic year, computation of POs attainment is done from the attainment of all curriculum components. Level of attainment computed for COs/PSOs/POs includes both direct and indirect assessment tools. Direct assessment tools are used to test the knowledge and/or skills student in that course. The PO and CO attainment is evaluated in the following way: Direct Method: First three learning levels of learning like remembering, understanding and apply to some extent fourth level of leaning by analysing can be assessed by conducting standardised examinations i.e. Semester End Examinations where students are given limited amount of time. Continuous Internal Evaluation and Semester End Examination are the prime tools for direct assessment in evaluation of PO and CO attainment. The continuous evaluation matrix comprises of two mid semester tests, assignment, surprize test and quiz test. The marks obtained by the students are analyzed and mapped to CO and PO. Indirect Method: Student Feedback on Curriculum is obtained and the same is shared with the department so that their feedback is discussed and relevant changes if any are made. P

The Institution admits diversified students from different social and economic backgrounds and the ability and extent of learning of the students is highly influenced by their personal abilities and other attributes. Institute has developed a structured mechanism for assessing the learning levels of the students. The initial interaction with students occurs during the mandatory AICTE Induction Programme, with the process of assessing, identifying, and differentiating the students by the professors. The first Continuous Evaluation process helps the faculty member to identify Slow and Advanced Learners. With regard to the program for Slow Learners, each proctor has been assigned with a group of students per year to provide one-to-one counselling for overall improvement.
